WATERBURY AND OTHERS. About one hundred and fifty representatives of the anti-Tammany Democracy assembled at Room No. 24 Cooper Institute last evening in response to invitans sent to them by the Committee appointed at Del onico's last week. Only those provided with a card gned "B. Wood, Chairman," were admitted, while a arge number not thus favored, remained in the outer As early as 7 o'clock delegates from various Assembly Districts arrived, and by o'clock the room was comfortably filled, the being intense. Benjamin Wood occupied the chair, and John D. Congh lan acted as Secretary. Emanuel B. Hart stated that this meeting had been called in pursuance of the action taken by a few Democrats last week, when a Committee taken by a few Remocrats has week, when a Committee was appointed to lay before a more representative meet ing like this a plan of organization in which all Democrate opposed to Tammany Hall could join. He called upon that Committee to report. Ex-Recorder Smith upon that the Secretary a set of resolutions, upon which the Committee appointed at Deimonico's had agreed. The Secretary then read the following resolutions: THE RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, It is conceded that the Democratic masses of this city have lost all confidence in the Tammany Hall organization for the reason that

First: As a self-constituted body of office-holders and office-seekers, neither elected by nor representing the people, yet depriving over 90,000 Democrats of this city of a volce in the councils of the party, and in the nomination of proper persons for public offices, it strikes at the very life of Democracy. [Applause.]

Second: That its system of making nominations for office has for some years been steadily growing into a more perfect machinery for enforcing the will and wishes of a few against the better judgment and interests of the many. [Applause.]

Fourth: That its representatives in public office in redveing the wages of the laboring classes to 20 cents an hour, while retaining their own salarice at figures ranging from $30 to $40 per day, struck a blow at our industrials classes which is not in the interest of economy, and is only another source of hadship to a large class of our fellow-citizens, aircady suffering deeply from the stringency of the times. [Great applause.]

**Reselved**, That a committee of five be appointed to drait a plan of organizatic and issue a call for the reorganization of the Democratic party in this State.

A motion having been made and seconded to adopt the ommittee's report, Mr. Shea of the IXth District moved an amendment providing only for the adoption of the able. He stated that the meeting at a later hour ould have to take action that might possibly conflict with this resolution if adopted.

Dr. Morison offered an amendment that the committee of five be appointed by the Chair. This was adopted. Dennis Burns moved that the committee when appointed have power to increase their number. This was

Mr. Truepenny expressed his surprise at the committee's report. He came there expecting to see everything prepared for the organization of the Democracy, and now prepared for the organization of the Democracy and the committee without having accomplished anything desired to place the entire work in the hands of a committee of five. There should be no mistakes made this time. They had had enough oppression from central bodies; the people could not stand it any longer, and as of old the time had come for the Democrats to declare their independence. The peo ple must no longer be ignored, and he regretted that those having charge of the resolutions did not this very night recommend something which would restore political rights to the people, the source of all power in this

Ex-Recorder Smith stated that at the meeting held at Delmonico's last week there were so few present that it ought best to leave the entire work of reorganizing e Democratic party of this city to the representatives of the people assembled here this evening, so that a decision on the plan proposed could be had from every ward in the city. It was safe for them to say that considering the limited time since the subject had first been roached, the scene which presented itsel?

sidering the limited time since the subject had first been broached, the scene which prescuted itself before them was unparalleled in political organizations. The targe number present showed that the people were in carnest and determined to throw off the Tammany yoke. He agreed with the spirit and intent of the gentleman who had preceded him, but there should be a system in the perfection of political organization. A pure Democracy was an impossibility. Our government was a representative government, and the Democratic organization should be a representative organization. He hoped before they adjourned to hear reports as to the progress made in the various wards, and he trusted that in selecting men for office they would send their best men forward, instead of those dictated or thrust upon them by a General Committee.

He knew of what he was speaking; he also knew that he was addressing one of the Sachems of Tammany Hall Emauuel B. Hart naving been called to the chair by Mr. Woodl, and he would bear him out in the statement that in the past the Democratic electors had had no choice in the election of their public officers. If the people wanted to send a young man of energy and talent to the Legislature, their voice was stiffed by two or three leaders. The voice of the people was not misunderstood this time. If those who were to issue the call should not act in good faith and not carry out the will of the people as opposed to Tammany, there would be no sneers attending their endeavors. They all understood, however, that in the reorganization of a party nothing ephemeral should be decided upon, and only such action taken as should place the new organization upon a permanent basis. His long experience in political life enabled him to state that the people who had heretofore slumbered were now wide awake, and were determined to make honest Democracy triumph If action were hastily done, however, it would fail. It could not be done in one night. Plenty of time was warted to organize a political party, and even after Mr. Shea rose to reply, and stated that he had expected to see the organization perfected at once. He saw no danger in baste. People were present here from a distance, and they were determined to organize without delay. They wanted no five men to control the entire body, they wanted no central dictation. They had had enough of that elsewhere. They wanted an organization from the people. If the committee was to be appointed then he would have them report at once so that the people could know what they should do in the district without the least delay.

The original preamble and resolutions were here put to vote and carried. The Chair then announced the follow-to and carried. The Unair then amounced ing Committee under the above resolutions:

Ex-Recorder James M. Smith.
The Hon. Robert B. Roosevelt.
Gideon J. Tucker.
Emanuel B. Hart.
Thos. L. Snead.

Mr. Bixby then offered the following resolution:

Resolved. That the Committee of five appointed by the the Chair are empowered to draft and publish a call embodying the ideas contained in the preamble and requesting all Democrats in the City and County of New-York to reorganize, and that they be directed to issue a call to all who believe in the necessity for forming an organization, which shall more faithfully represent the people than the Tammany Hall organization, to meet in their respective election districts at such time and place as said committee may designate, and cleet not less than five delegates to represent them in an Assembly district committee, which, upon duly organizing, shall in turn select to represent the Assembly district in a county organization, to be known as the Democratic County Committee of the City and County of New-York, a number of delegates equal to the number of election districts in said Assembly district.

Mr. McCiellan stated that the work of organization was Mr. Bixby then offered the following resolution :

the schemes of Mr. Dennis Burns.
This caused somewhat of a sensation, and while several delegates called upon Mr. Wateburns to apologise to Mr. Burns, a motion to adjourn was made and carried amid

COMMENTS ON THE MEETING.

The meeting was the topic of conversation in political circles last evening. In most of the gatherings of politicians there was some one who had attended the meeting, or had heard directly from it, and was, therefore, enabled to tell who were the prominent polilicans present. Among the Tammany Hall adherents there was an evident feeling of centempt for the new organization, and a belief that it would not prove formidable under the leadership of those now controlling and directing the movement. "The same old crowd," "The party which has opposed Tammany Hall for the past three years," were exclamations often heard. On the other hand, the Republicans and independent Democrats were more inclined to believe that there was a chance of building up a successful opposition to Tammany Hall. It was urged by these sympathizers, that if there were certain of those who had been prominent in the ranks of the men opposed to Tammany Hall. It was urged by these years, or even since its reorganization, there were others who had held places of trust in Tammany Hall, and these might be looked upon as a positive gain, and as imparting strength to the new organization. The presence at the meeting of Charles H. Swan, who had clarge of Centroller Green'sbills in Atbany during the past Winter, and who now holds A position in the Department of Finance was looked upon as giving the organization to a certain extent the countenance and support of the Controller. It was believed that a certain amount of partonage could be obtained from the Finance and Fire Departments, and possibly from the Police and Park Departments. ing, or had heard directly from it, and was, therefore

HARLEM FLATS STILL NOISOME. GOOD EFFECTS OF DISINFECTANTS RAPIDLY DISAP-PEARING-RESIDENTS IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD MUCH ANNOYED BY PESTILENTIAL ODORS-LIGHT SPRINKLING OF EARTH OVER BAD SPOTS-HOW THE STREET GARBAGE IS NOW DISPOSED OF.

The temporary good results effected by the use of dead oil and other disinfectants upon the Harlem Flats about two weeks ago have been rapidly disappearing under the influence of the hot sun of the past few days. There is apparently no diminution in the quantity of stagnant water lying west of Third-aye., while the odor of the 35 barrels of dead oil that were emptied into the pools there-which took the place for a time of the nauscating gases from the water—is no longer noticeable A reporter of THE TRIBUNE visited the flats again yesterday, and found that the stench arising from the dis-trict recently visited by the disinfecting corps was almost as disagreeable as it was before any attempt had been made to remedy the evil. Dead dogs and other carcasses were found floating in the stagnant pools above referred to, while the rapid fermentation in places has raised th surface of the black muck above the water. Nothing has been done either toward filling up these street ways or draining them of their contents. The large tract of ground lying east of Third-ave., which has been covered with ashes, garbage, &c., but which has never been raised above high tide, has received in spots a slight covering of earth, two to three inches deep, which for the time covers the standing water. The greater part of the surface of this portion of the infected district, however, remains unouched, and the mud that adheres to a person's shoes in passing over the ground gives off the same offensive odor, even after several days' wear, that was noticeable before my disinfectants were used.

A resident physician stated that his patients as far up as One-hundred-and-sixteenth-st. bave been compelled for several days past to keep their windows closed, notwithstanding the excessive heat, on account of the offensive odors that fill the atmosphere. He added that eruptive skin diseases are becoming very frequent and of a serious character. He does not regard the work done as of any permanent value. Other physicians expressed similar views, while loud complaints of the smell arising from the flats are being made by the citizens in the neigh-

Sanitary Superintendent Day made the following state-Banitary Superintendent Day made the following stalement:

In 1873 I made the usual statement to the Department of Public Works setting forth the work that was necessary to be done in this district. Some of this has since been done, but a portion of it has not been carried through. Last week I was told that the Commissioners wanted separate certificates specifying cach place that needed attention. I immediately made out and the Board passed them. Another law has just been signed by the Governor, however, by which the form is slightly changed, and which requires us to keep a copy of the certificate on file in this office. I have, therefore, had fresh certificates made out and have just signed them. These will go before the Board to-morrow for its appreval. In regarding the work of disinfecting the flats, we have done all we can until we are furnished with more money. We have already spent nearly $2,000 in dead oil and other disinfectants, while the amount appropriated for extra work of this kind for the entire Summer is only about $5,000. If we were to attempt to make the whole district smell of carbolic acid all Summer it would cost the city probably $15,000 for this slione. The inspection of the work done by Mills and Ambrose west of Third-ave, will be made to-day, and reported to the Board of Health to-morrow. They have added four feet of good, clean earth. The City Sanitary Inspector is required by law simply to specify what places need to be drained by other means than by sewers, and the execution of the work is left altogether with the Board of Public Works. It must be borne in mind that the good results effected by the use of disinfectants are only temporary, and that nothing short of filling up the district with good earth will remove the difficulty.

At Gen. Porter's office the reporter was informed that secontage has been given out yet for any additional At Gen. Porter's office the reporter was informed that no contract has been given out yet for any additional filling. Mr. McQuaid has agreed to add a slight covering of earth to some portions of that filled in by him, but no ordinance of the Common Council appropriating the necessary money. As a majority of three-fourths is required for the expenditure of any money, nothing can be done at present. Gen. Porter is in hopes, however, that some arrangement can be made at the general meeting next Thursday.

Inspector Thorn stated that the officers of the State new contract can be made without first obtaining an some arrangement can be made at the general meeting next Thursday.

Inspector Thorn stated that the officers of the Street-cleaning Department have recently been taking the ashes to the upper end of Blackwell's Island, where the material is used for filling in the low land, but not a single load is allowed to leave the pier for this place without the certificate of the Inspector of the Board of Health that it is free from garbage. They are taking the garbage to sea. About 900 cart-loads of this went down Friday last, and they now have about half as much more on hand. When the citizens do not keep the garbage and ashes separate, the whole cart-load is dumped upon the seow, which is taken out to sea when the weather is fine. Mr. Thorn expressed the opinion, however, that if this plan is to be kept up, new seows will have to be built for the purpose, as those now belonging to the Department are not sufficiently seaworthy.

ODORS FROM DISTILLERY REFUSE.

A NUISANCE TO THOSE LIVING NEAR THE GRAND CENTRAL DEPOT-NECESSITY OF USING TIGHT CARS TO PREVENT THE ESCAPE OF VILE SMELLS.

There has been considerable complaint by ersons living in the neighborhood of the Grand Central Depot, about the disagreeable odors that arise from the listillery products that are shipped in the cars at that point. Assistant Sanitary Superintendent Janes said yesterday that the Sanitary Inspectors had frequently reported that disagreeable, sour odors arise from the drippings of this distillery refuse in the cars at the Fortysecond-st. Depot. These odors, however, do not extend for any considerable distance, but are confined to the im-for any considerable distance, but are confined to the immediate neighborhood of the freight yard. The sewers receive these drippings, and carry them off before they ever can become a general musance.

Dr. Janes added that the odors are not considered dangerous to the b aith of those hving in the neighborhood. The bad odors that, at times, pervade the Murray Hill district arise from the oil refineries across the river at Hunner's Point. The sources of these odors have been carefully investigated by inspectors of the Sanitary Bureau. Dr. Janes said that if the railroad companies would provide tight cars for the transportation of distiliery refuse, the disagreeable smells from this source might easily be avoided.

CITY GOVERNMENT TOPICS.

THE PARADE GROUND COMMISSIONERS-ENSETTLED QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE SUPERVISORS-GEN. FITZ JOHN PORTER NOT TO RESIGN. The Park Commissioners and Corporation

Counsel called yesterday on the Mayor relative to the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assess-ment to provide for laying out a parade ground in the upper part of the island. It was finally resolved to postpone the consideration of the matter until July 8, and then further postpone it for 50 days, after which arguments will heard from those interested.

A call has been issued for a meeting of the Board of Supervisors at noon, on Monday next, to receive and revise the tax-books of the city. There is a question whether or not the Board can hold a meeting on that day, it being a legal holiday. The law provides that the Board of Supervisors shall meet on the first Monday in Board of Supervisors shall meet on the first Monday in July of each year to receive the tax-books. Nothing is said about holidays. The Corporation Counsel gives it as his opinion that the Board must meet. There is another question in connection with this matter. The seven Republican members of the Board of Aldermen are declared in contempt by their Democratic colleagues. The question is asked. Does this necessarily prevent the Republican members from acting as Supervisors? President Lewis holds that they cannot act, while Alderman Morris is of the opinion that they can.

The Mayor has still under advisement the appointment of italizoad Commissioners under the Husted Rapid Transit act. A very large number of names have already been presented to the Mayor from which to make a selection. He is in no hurry to announce his choice, and it is understood that he has not yet made up his mind whom he will select. He announces that they will be men in whom the commonity has confidence.

his position as Commissioner of Public Works, and accept that of Engineer of the Dock Department, is announced to be without foundation.

City Chataberiain Tappan makes the following report of the city and county finances for the week ending Saturday last: Balance, June 19, $1,827,865 83; receipts for the week, $878,876 74; payments for the week, $449,870 82; balance, June 26, $1,686,862 74.

THE BROOKLYN BOARD OF ALDERMEN. DR. ANDREW OTTARSON CONFIRMED AS HEALTH OFFICER-PAY OF THE FIREMEN INCREASED.

The Brooklyn Board of Aldermen vesterday received from Mayor Hunter and confirmed the nomina-tion of Dr. Andrew Ottarson for Health Officer. The new appointee formerly held the same position, and he, with the Presidents of the Boards of Aldermen and Police, will appointee formerly held the same position, and it, will the Presidents of the Boards of Aldermen and Police, will constitute the new Beard of Health. After considerable debate a resolution providing for increasing the pay of firemen $100 each per menth was adopted. This will make a total increase of $18,000 per year. A communication was received from the Mayor vetoing a resolution providing for the application of a patent gas regentor to the gas lights in the public buildings, at a cost of $7,500, on the ground that there is no money applicable to that purpose.

Alderman Rowley offered a resolution censuring Alderman Gardner for erasing the name of George C. Bennett from the list of nominees for members of the Board of Education, approved by the Committee had signed the report. After considerable debate, a substitute, offered by Alderman Zindel, was adopted, providing for the appointment of an investigating committee. The Board adjourned until to-morrow evening.

POISON IN A JAR OF PICKLES.

There was a case of extensive poisoning last night at No. 255 West Houston-st. About 10:30 p. m. the family, including Daniel Malone, Kate Malone, Emma Malone, Johanna Malone, Mary Malone, and Mary Murphy, sat down to supper. They had cold meat on the table, bread and cheese, beer, and pickies. All ate largely of pickies. All of the family were in their usual state of of pickles. All of the family were in their usual state of good health at supper. In about an hour afterward all were taken with cramps and vomiting. Dr. Petitjean was called in, and he pronounced the case one of poisoning. Some poisonous substance had evidently been mingled with the acid used in making the pickles.

Antidotes were administered, and with the exception of Damel Malone, the members of the family at midnight were pronounced to be out of danger. Daniel Malone still remained in a critical condition, the remedies administered seeming to have little criect upon his system. The physicians were unable to decide whether the poisonous substance taken was copperas or arsenite of copper. It was believed to be some substance used to make the pickles look fresh and green. An analysis is to be made of the finid in the kettle, which was taken to the Ninth Precinct Police Station.

EXERCISES AT THE UNION FREE SCHOOL

DRESS BY THE REV. W. T. BURNS. The Sixth Annual Commencement exercises of Union Free School of District No. 2 in Yonkers, N. Y., took place in the Assembly Hall last evening. The hall was filled with the parents and friends of pupils, and decorated with flags, mottoes, and flowers. Diplomas were awarded to two young ladies and five young gentle-men, as follows: Emana Hill, Madeleine V. Small, Beverly A. Smith, Adam C. Stevens, William R. Lamberton, Stephen R. Lyons, and John H. Curran.

The exercises were opened with choral singing by the school and prayer by the Rev. Mr. Allison. Choral pieces duets, and trios were sung between the literary portions of the exercises, and attracted much attention.

read by John H. Curran, on " Military and Naval Warfare;" by William R. Lamberton,
"Ancient and Modern Laws;" by Beverly Smith, on "Some of the Vices of the Times;" and by Madeleine V. Small, on "The Undue Influence of Fashion." Adam C. Sievens read an essay on "The War of the Revolution." The honor of delivering the Valedictory Address fell upon Miss Emma Hill. She took "The Flowers of Memory" for her theme, and in reviewing the days of school life, gave suggestive glimpses of the future. Following the award of the diplomas, the Rev. W. T. Burns delivered a brief address to the graduates. He congratulated the class upon the facilities which they had had for obtaining a good common school education, and the teachers upon the evidence which the class gave of their efficient labors. He spoke of the number—seven—of which the Graduating class was composed, and drew a parallel between the class and the seven on "Some of the Vices of the Times;" and the teachers upon the evidence which the class gave of their efficient labors. He spoke of the number—seven—of which the Graduating class was composed, and drew a parallel between the class and the seven primary colors of the solar spectrum, which, combined, produced white polarized light. To attain true womanhood and manhood, they should concentrate each one of the individual powers of the mind and heart for the advancement of some distinct positive mission. He exhorted each one to be true to himself and herself; if they could be anything successfully, they could be themselves. He said that the Darwinian theory traced back the lineage of man until it found its origin in an ape. Many men and women, by their aimless and imitative lives, gave a coloring of confirmation to this theory. But he wanted them to discredit the theory by being as far as possible, themselves. Again, he said, the rainbow, formed of the seven colors of the spectrum, was a promise from God, written in characters of light in the sky. The Graduating class was also a premise. He called upon them to redeem the promise to parents, teachers and to each other.

COLLEGE OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER.

EXERCISES AT THE TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL COM-MENCEMENT-ADDRESS OF CARDINAL M'CLOSKEY.

The twenty-fifth annual Commencement of the College of St. Francis Xavier, at No. 49 West Fif-teenth-st., was held last evening. The large hall of the college was filled by an audience composed of the friends and relatives of the graduates and the pupils and prefessors of the institution. Among the more prominent persons present were Cardinal McCloskey, the Rev. Henry Hudon, President of the college; the Rev. Father Chavaux, Superior-General of the Jesuits in New-York and Canada; Father Preston, Vicar-General and Chancellor; Father Far-ley, Secretary of the Cardinal; Father Moriarty, of Chatham Four Corners; Father Donnelly, Dr. Mesweeny, the Rev. Henry Brann, D. D.; Father James Morancy, of Brooklyn; Father Edwards, Father Riordan; the Rev. Father Goeckeln, President of St. John's College, Ford, ham, and Commissioners Brennan and Lynch. The plat-form was decorated with busts of Cardinal McCloskey, Washington and Shakspeare, draped with American flags. Above the central flag, and extending across the platform, was a long scarlet streamer, bearing in gold the words, "Long live our Cardinal."

At 7:30 p.m. the graduating class entered, led by Cardinal McClosky, Superior General Charvaux, and President Hudon. The exercises were opened by an overture, "L'Italiana in Algeri," by the band. This was followed by an address to the Cardinal by J. S. Mc ill, who spoke of the many hours which the College had re-ceived at his hands. A discourse, "What is Liberty!" was delivered by J. B. Manahan, and was received with great applause. After a selection from "Faust" by the band, J. S. McGill read an essay on "The Failacles of Liberty," in which he spoke of the many ideas men have of liberty, criticising some prominent men of both sentiments somewhat severely. An essay, "License versus Liberty," was read by J. F. Higgins. He spoke of the great license of the times, saying that the grossest immoralities were dignified by the teachings of new schools of philosophy. The last discourses was "The Touth of Liberty," by J. J. McCleaverse was "The Touth of Liber discourse was "The Truth of Liberty," by J. J. ANTOINE LOUIS BARYE.

A Paris telegram says that Antoine Louis Barye, the celebrated sculptor, is dead. This versatile artist, who owed celebrity to his own genius and industry. was born in Paris, Sept. 24, 1795, and in his boyhood was placed in the workshop of a steel engraver. In 1812 he was drawn in the conscription and served a year in the army with the engineers and sappers. He returned at the peace of 1814 to his profession as a chaser, study-ing at the same time drawing and modeling, in both of which he greatly improved in the ateliers of M. Bosio and Baron Gros. His first exhibition at the competition of the Ecole des Beaux Arts was in 1819, when he gained honorable mention for an engraving the subject of which was "Milon of Crotona devoured by a lion," and in 1817 and 1820 he obtained second prizes for sculpture. M. Barye began exhibiting his sculptures at the on de Beaux Arts in 1827, and continued to do so regplarly until 1836, when, the jury having refused several of his works, the indignant artist ceased to exhibit for 14 years. From 1848 to 1851 he occupied the post of keeper and director of the plaster casts at the Louvre, and in 1850 he was appointed to superintend the course of drawing relating to natural history at Versailles, and in 1854 to a similar post in the Museum of Natural History. M. Barye attained great success in modeling wild animals, which he reproduced with singular accuracy, and grouped with striking effect. His bronze group of " Lion Choking a Boa," in the Garden of the Tutleries, at Paris, added greatly to his reputation, and is deemed one of his best works. He modeled more than 30 groups and statues which rank among the principal productions of French art, as well as an indefinite number of bronzes of less account. M. Barye was accorded several marks of distinction in his native land and abroad. At the Paris Exhibition of 1855 he obtained a grand medal of honor, the only one awarded in artistic bronzes. In 1861 he was appointed a member of the jury which decided as to the claims for admission of works of art into the London Exhibition of 1861. He was created a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by King Louis Philippe in 1833, and was promoted to be an officer of the sar in November, 1855.

SCHOOL CONTROVERSY IN BALTIMORE.

A FIGHT OVER SECTARIAN APPROPRIATIONS-PAY MENT OF $50,000 ENJOINED-THE POSITION OF THE TAX-PAPERS-TO GO TO THE COURT OF BALTIMORE, June 28 .- In the Circuit Court of Baltimore City to-day, upon a bill of complaint of cer tain taxpayers in the City of Baltimore, Judge Pinkney granted a preliminary injunction prohibiting the Mayor and City Conneil, and the officers and agents of the latter, from paying certain appropriations to a number of charitable and benevolent institutions in this city, and restraining such institutions from demanding payment. The City Council recently passed an ordinance, which was approved by the Mayor passed an ordinance, which was approved by the Mayor, making appropriations to a number of charitable and benevolent institutions, public and sectarian, such as the Aged Men's Home, the Aged Women's Home, Maryland Agricultural Society, institutions for the blind, Union Protestant Infirmary, St. Mary's Industrial School, and others, amounting in the aggregate to about $50,000. When the ordinance was before the City Council, it was vigorously opposed by a number of Protestant elergy and taxpayers on the ground of ilegality, and because the Catholic institutions received an undue proportion of the appropriation. The bill filed to-day alleges that the Mayor and City Council of Boltimore, in the administration of its municipal affairs and government, can only exercise the defined and limited powers, and perform the duties prescribed in its charter and in the acts supplimentary thereto; and they can not sustain or ald agencies, however beneficial in themselves, which are not called for or required in the exercise of the powers and performance of the duties prescribed for them by law Further, that the institutions aforesaid are none of them in any proper or legal sense public, or such agencies as the City Corporation has a lawful right to maintain or assist by taxation, and that the levy for the purpose of paying the appropriations was filegal and void. The bill also charges that the mingling of political and elecanosynary functions is as injurious to the cause of charity on the one side as it is to political purity on the other. The tax-payers whose means are squandered in official charity without respect to his personal judgment and feelings, are not only restricted thereby in their private characters, but lose in a greater or less degree a cheerful sense of their obligations. Whatever the decidion of Judge Pinkiney may be on the motion to dissolve the lujunction the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals. making appropriations to a number of charitable and

At the close of his speaking, three chairs were placed on the front of the platfarm, and the Cardinal, Superior General and President rose from their places in front of the breakers with a strong wind and heavy see, and prevention that the best is mirrhant has been represented.
